

Ewe beauty! Sheep judging returns to show

Oct. 31, 2013, 7:30 a.m.

After more than a decade's absence, sheep judging returned to the Junee Show, with Temora's Jeff Sutton claiming the supreme champion ram. Picture: Declan Rurenga

FOR the first time in 12 years, sheep judging returned to the Junee Show.

Hundreds took advantage of the spring sunshine to visit the agricultural showcase and sample the excitement of sideshow alley.

Judge Kelvin Cronk said the return of the sheep judging was fantastic.

Entries included border leicesters and prime SAMMS.

"The quality of the sheep is very good," Mr Cronk said.

"Some of the sheep here have been to Royal Easter Show in Sydney, Canberra, Melbourne and the NSW sheep show in Dubbo and the national sheep show in Bendigo."