

NSW STATE SHEEP SHOW REPORT

Wattle Farm top Border ram

BY MARK GRIGGS

UNIOR champion ram, Wattle Farm Jj, went on to become grand champion on Border Leicester ram and interbreed long wool champion of the 2016 NSW Sheep Show for Jeff Sutton and family, Wattle Farm stud, Temora.

The stud enjoyed a strong result from its 11 head also taking out junior champion on ewe and reserve grand champion ewe awards plus the group of three, group of four most successful exhibitor and best exhibit of the breed with "Jj". Sired by Geraldine Gladator, this ram had won the youngest woolly class, under one year of age.

The junior ewe champion

Grand champion ram.

Helen Campbell, Gulgong, with junior champion ram and Jeff Sutton, Wattle Farm stud, Temora; judge Ian Micheel, Echuca, Vic, reserve held by Ben Simmons, Talbragar stud.

Merrygoen based Bindabba reserve stud of the Sweeney family showed the reserve senior champion ram and reserve junior champion ewe

Pick Hoolihan Rose-Lea

stud, Rydal, was most suc-

"The senior and grand ewe had excessive novice exhibitor length and style of wool but the older ewe was tops on the day."

Reserve junior champion ram winning the under one year, shorn class and the objective measurement class came from Talbragar stud of Ben Simmons, Leadville.

Mr Micheel said the reserve ram had a good outlook but came up against some very good competition with Wattle farm's woolly junior

"The junior and eventual champion ram had a better topline and handles beauti- fully," Mr Micheel said.

The breed attracted 11 exhibitors showing 47 rams and 61 ewes with classes up quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a

quality covering of wool and

extremely well and had a